HR professionals and those administering the HR function are invited to join us in a session tailored to their needs. The agenda will consist of facilitated open discussion on human resources issues affecting ESOP companies. When enrolling, please indicate HR topics of interest to you. We will compile background material and be able to explore implications of these issues as a group. Sample topics could include:

- Implementing the new health care legislation
- Controlling benefit costs
- Starting up an HR function
- Motivating the work force in tough times

Be sure to indicate on the registration form what topics are of interest to you.

Dress attire is casual.
